School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences
Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AL

Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms

STUDY CONSENT FORM

Supervisors:	Email	Phone:
Prof. Philip Beaman	c.p.beaman@reading.ac.uk	0118 378 7637
Dr Rich Harrison	rich.harrison@reading.ac.uk

Experimenter:
Christopher Dobson c.g.dobson@pgr.reading.ac.uk

Please read the following, and tick the box preceding it, to confirm you have read and agree to it.

- ☐ I understand participation is entirely voluntary and that I have the right to withdraw from the study at any time, without detriment, by simply closing my browser window.
- ☐ I have read the information sheet regarding the project: 'Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms' and understand the experimental procedure – especially that it involves rating 120 words of which 83 are considered swear words.
- ☐ I confirm that I have contacted the researchers prior to this study to ask any questions that I may have about the study, and these have been answered to my satisfaction
- ☐ I understand what information is collected about me, how it will be used in relation to the study, how it will be kept safe, and my rights in relation to my data.
- ☐ I understand that the data collected as part of this study will be preserved and made openly available in an anonymized form, so that they can be consulted and re-used by others.
- ☐ I understand that I can download the 'Study Information Sheet' and this 'Consent Form' by clicking the link at the bottom of this form, or by requesting copies by emailing the experimenter listed above.
- ☐ I confirm that I am over the age of 18.
- ☐ Please tick the preceding box if you are happy to be contacted about future studies (optional)
- ☐ I understand that by clicking 'Consent & Start' that I am providing informed consent to take part in this study.

Name: Email Address:

This study has been reviewed by the School Research Ethics Committee and has been given a favourable ethical opinion for conduct (2024-014-PB; expiry date: 17/09/2027).

Thank you for taking part in our study.

Prof. Philip Beaman, Dr Rich Harrison, and Christopher Dobson

School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences
Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AL

Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms

STUDY INFORMATION SHEET

Supervisors:	Email	Phone:
Prof. Philip Beaman	c.p.beaman@reading.ac.uk	0118 378 7637
Dr Rich Harrison	rich.harrison@reading.ac.uk
Experimenter:
Christopher Dobson	c.g.dobson@pgr.reading.ac.uk

We would be grateful if you could assist us by participating in our study 'Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms'.

What will I be asked to do?

The study comprises a single, online testing session that takes approximately 35 minutes to complete. Procedurally, you will be asked to rate 120 different words on 6 separate rating scales by providing a score for each scale from 1 to 9 by clicking on the appropriate response number based on your opinion. You will also be required to state whether you consider the word you are rating to be a swear word. The words are presented in four blocks of 30 words, and you will be allowed a break between each block should you wish. Please note, that within the 120 words you must rate, 83 are 'swear words' by which we mean they may be considered taboo/offensive. Before you make your ratings, you will first complete a short demographic questionnaire, as well as state how religious you consider yourself to be and how out of control you feel if/when you say a swear word out loud in response to pain/frustration. Once you've have completed the tasks just described, you will be debriefed to the study's aims. We are collecting basic demographic information to monitor the diversity and inclusivity of those who take part in this study as one aim of this study is to increase the generalisability of our knowledge about how people perceive, and use, different types of words.

Who can participate in this study and are there any benefits to taking part?

Anyone over the age of 18 years may participate in this study. If you are under 18 years old, please withdraw from the study before starting.

If you are a University of Reading psychology student, recruited through the SONA recruitment system, you will earn 1 credit for your participation. However, if you were not recruited through the SONA system you will be entered into a draw (made in at the start of October) to win a £75 Amazon gift voucher.

Are there any risks or disadvantages to taking part?

This study is investigating how people perceive and use different swearwords across several different scales and how this may be influenced by our individual differences. As a result, the procedure does involve reading and thinking about 83 words that can be considered swear words. This list of 83 swear words, however, does not include any ethnic or racial slurs.

Due to the need to display each word on screen while you make your ratings, we would advise that you complete the study alone, in a quiet, private space. Furthermore, if you are uncomfortable with swearing or swear words in general, we would advise you do not take part in the study.

School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences
Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AL

Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms

What will happen to my data/how will it be protected?

Your data will be kept anonymous, confidential, and securely stored, with only a random ID identifying it. The final dataset collected from this study will be preserved and made available in anonymised form, so that data can be re-used by others. This dataset will contain the descriptive statistics (means and standard deviations) for each word across the six rating scales, as well as the total individual difference questionnaire scores and demographic information of each participant. No personally identifiable information will be contained within this dataset.

Who can I contact about data privacy and storage?

The organisation responsible for protection of your personal information is the University of Reading (the Data Controller). Queries regarding data protection and your rights should be directed to the University Data Protection Officer at imps@reading.ac.uk, or in writing to: University of Reading, Information Management & Policy Services, Whiteknights House, Pepper Lane, Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6UR.

The University of Reading collects, analyses, uses, shares, and retains personal data for the purposes of research in the public interest. Under data protection law we are required to inform you that this use of the personal data we may hold about you is on the lawful basis of being a public task in the public interest and where it is necessary for scientific or historical research purposes. If you withdraw from a research study, which processes your personal data, dependant on the stage of withdrawal, we may still rely on this lawful basis to continue using your data if your withdrawal would be of significant detriment to the research study aims. We will always have in place appropriate safeguards to protect your personal data.

As part of consenting to take part in this study, you will be asked if you are happy to be contacted about future research. This is entirely optional; you can still take part in the study even if you do not wish to be contacted in the future about other studies. Additionally, if you agree to be contacted but later change your mind, you can be removed from the list by emailing the study supervisor – Prof. Philip Beaman (c.p.beaman@reading.ac.uk).

You have certain rights under data protection law which are:

- Withdraw your consent, for example if you opted in to be added to a participant register
- Access your personal data or ask for a copy
- Rectify inaccuracies in personal data that we hold about you
- Be forgotten, that is your details to be removed from systems that we use to process your personal data
- Restrict uses of your data
- Object to uses of your data, for example retention after you have withdrawn from a study

Some restrictions apply to the above rights where data is collected and used for research purposes. You can find out more about your rights on the website of the Information Commissioners Office (ICO) at https://ico.org.uk. You also have a right to complain the ICO if you are unhappy with how your data has been handled. Please contact the University Data Protection Officer in the first instance.

Who has reviewed this study?

School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences
Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AL

Re-examining taboo, emotionally valenced, and emotionally neutral word norms

This study has been reviewed by the School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences Research Ethics Committee and given a favourable ethical opinion for conduct (2024-014-PB; expiry date: 17/09/2027).

Where can I get more information/who I can contact about this study?

Before taking part in this study, please make sure that you have asked any questions you may have and that you have received a satisfactory answer. If you do have questions and/or concerns about this study, please contact Christopher Dobson (c.g.dobson@pgr.reading.ac.uk) before continuing.

Thank you for taking part in our study.

Prof. Philip Beaman, Dr Rich Harrison, and Christopher Dobson